

China-Scotland Business Awards 2023 | Application Instructions and FAQ

How to Apply?

There are a few important points to note regarding the application process:

- Please fill out the application form found here. Applications opened on 1st November 2022.
- The online application form can be saved, so you can return to it any time and edit right up to the deadline at midnight on 2nd December 2022.
- Please be aware you are required to submit a 3 minute video to support the application. You are required to submit a YouTube link through the online application form. The video will provide the judges with extra information to decide the winners of each category.
- Every applicant will be provided with feedback from the category judge after shortlisted candidates are announced.
- The organisers reserve the right, as its absolute discretion, to reject any application that it deems inappropriate and the decision of the judges is final.

Finalists will be offered 2 complimentary places to attend the China-Scotland Business Awards in Glasgow on 26th January 2023, where the winners will be announced.

FAQ

Can my organisation make more than one application?

Yes, your organisation may apply more than once. For example, various departments from a university may make separate applications in the same category or in other award categories.

Only one application can be submitted per category, it is not permitted to send the same application for two different award categories.

Can I attach documents to support my application?

Yes, you may attach up to three separate documents through the online application form. Please note, each attachment should be no more than one page in PDF or one picture in .jpeg format – the maximum size of each attachment cannot exceed 20Mb.

Attachments that are more than one page will not be supplied to the judges for viewing.

How are the applications assessed?

One judge, specialised in his or her award category, will score one award category individually. Each question in your application is scored out of 10. Once the scores are counted the judge picks a number of shortlisted candidates, based on the overall scoring and overall quality of applications in the group – The China-Britain Business Council has the final discretion on the number of shortlisted candidates.

Once the shortlisted candidates are decided by individual judges, the full judging panel will come together to view each shortlisted candidate's video and in addition to the candidates application score, the full panel will make a final decision on the winner of the award by voting majority.

How do I submit the required 3-minute video pitch?

The video should be to the standard of that taken on a hand held mobile recording device or better – it is not necessary to produce a professional video solely for these awards unless you really wish to do so. It is the content which matters. We would encourage applicants to show their product or service in the 3 minute video as this often helps bring your application to life for the judging panel during the assessment process.

YouTube is the preferred option for uploading video content and we would encourage applicants to amend their video to the unlisted option when uploading a video to YouTube (link below). The time limit for videos is 3 minutes maximum. Any video content beyond 3 minutes will not be viewed during final awarding assessments.

Where do I submit the 3-minute video?

Once the video content has been uploaded to YouTube then you must provide the full URL link on your online application where requested.

What should be covered in the 3-minute video?

The video offers the opportunity for you to showcase the business, team or product/service to the full panel of judges. The 3-minute video does not need to be the business leader speaking for 3 minutes, it can include a demonstration of your product or service, have customer testimonials or show some of the team hard at work.
